MEET THE BUILDERS OF THIS YEAR'S LAKES REGION PARADE OF HOMES TOUR!

Lauren Milligan - Lauren Milligan Design; Jeremy Doucet - Lighthouse Contracting Group; Jake Mason-AG Structures; Bob Stephens - RH Stephens Builders Contracting; Chris Duprey - Meredith Bay; Shamus Keating - Key Day Builders; Kurt Clason and Dylan Clason - KA Clason Fine Woodworking; Paul Fleming - Paul V. Fleming & Sons; Liam Cargill - Cargill Construction. (Missing Builders: Conor Hayes - JC Hayes Construction; Mike Pelczar - Inter-Lakes Builders; Adam Pierce - Home Comfort Retreat.)

Interesting "Stats" from the National Association of Home Builders,

- For many people, owning a home is part of their American Dream.
- Most Americans consider homeownership to be the single best long-term investment and primary source of wealth and financial security.
- Homeownership is a major driver of the U.S. Economy. Fully 15 percent of the U.S. economy relies on housing and nothing packs a bigger local economic impact than home building.
- Constructing 100 new single-family homes creates 297 full-time jobs, $28 million in wage and business income and $11.1 million in federal, state and local tax revenue.
- Housing, like no other sector, is "Made in America." Most of the products used in home construction and remodeling are manufactured here in the United States.

Lakes Region Premier Builders look forward to talking with you about your building ideas during this year's 3-day self-guided home tour, October 12, 13, & 14th from 10-4 daily. With hundreds of visitors attending the parade, Lakes Region Builders & Remodelers Association (LRBRA) members work hard to present their best craftsmanship and innovations. Our member sub-contractors and suppliers also benefit by showcasing the newest and best products that have just reached the market.

One of the primary purposes of the Parade is to create that "wow" factor and leave a lasting impression on all who visit. So, whether you're touring Parade houses because you're interested in building, buying, remodeling, decorating or simply enjoy viewing the homes to see the latest trends and innovations, we look forward to seeing Columbus Day Weekend..
